

SOUTHERN CAPE GOLF UNION

The invasion of the pink took place at Fancourt on 22 April at the Fancourt Golf Academy when the Southern Cape Golf Union Women's Division organized a Girls love Golf event. It was the first time such a competition was held in Southern Cape, so it was with absolute delight when more than 65 want-to-be-golfers arrived in their most brilliant attire ready for action. Fancourt's Golf Director, Ryan Reid affirmed that he has neither seen so much pink, nor heard so many giggles all on one putting green before.

All Southern Cape's coaches were there to help the budding golfers get into the swing of things. The groups were divided in two, which were experienced golfers who went on the course for a "four whole scramble drive" competition with Val Holland and the not so experienced golfers who took great delight getting expert tips from Adam McKinlay and Luanda on the chipping and putting greens.

The girls were treated to scrumptious cupcakes baked by Fancourt's Pastry Chef and parents were not forgotten as Brandhouse donated some STRONGBOW ciders for the enthusiastic and very exhausted parents.

Southern Cape Golf Union would like to thank the sponsors whom without such a day will not be possible:

Leading edge with 10 branded "Girls love Golf" golf shirts

A Chimes van Wyk Inc. with 10 Caps, cupcakes and water for each player

Matchplay with skorts and belts

Skinlogic with facial vouchers for the players and their mothers.

Fancourt with R100 Pro Shop vouchers

If anyone would like to obtain further information you are welcome to email the Women's Golf President Jenny du Preez at wgpresident@scgu.co.za. You can also "like" us on Southern Cape's face book page, Womens Golf @ SCWGA.

GIRLS  GOLF

